Job Description:

Associate Professor (Tenured) -- Modern German History
Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service and Department of History

The Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service (SFS) at Georgetown University, seeks to fill a tenure-line position in Modern German History, with an emphasis on the twentieth century.

The search committee welcomes applications from candidates who are tenured, or tenurable, at the rank of Associate Professor.

The appointment which begins August 2010, is to the Core Faculty of the BMW Center for German and European Studies in SFS, with a joint appointment in the Department of History.

The BMW Center fosters interdisciplinary scholarship in History, Political Science, Economics and Cultural Studies and is home to a distinguished Master's Degree Program.

The Department of History offers two innovative Master's degrees, as well as the Ph.D.

Candidates for the position should hold Ph.D.s in History and should have distinguished records of scholarship and teaching. Additional research interests in European and comparative history are desirable.

Teaching load is two courses per semester, at the Undergraduate and Graduate (M.A. and Ph.D.) levels.
