This position affords researchers the unique opportunity to engage at the intersection of an upcoming institutional merger between Old Dominion University and Eastern Virginia Medical School as well as larger regional efforts to focus on health equity for underserved residents of the area. The successful candidate will have the opportunity to teach introductory and advanced courses at the undergraduate and graduate levels, partner on interdisciplinary grants, and to participate in or launch collaborative, community-based research. This position carries a 3/2 teaching load.

Position Type: FullTime

Type of Recruitment: General Public

Minimum Qualifications - knowledge, skills, and abilities

1. A strong research agenda with a record of conference presentation and/or publication.
2. A demonstrated commitment supporting and fostering diversity, equity, inclusivity, and accessibility.

Minimum Qualifications - Education or training

Applicants must have completed all Ph.D. requirements in English, Rhetoric, Medical/Health Humanities, or a closely related field by July 24, 2024.
